Property Description

This elegant luxury home for sale in Residencial La Hacienda was designed in a contemporary style. The work of the renowned architect Jean Garnier, it is an example of high design, ideal spaces and good taste. The beautiful path to the large front door is a harmonious blend of modern water features, vegetation and rich textures achieved through the limestone that covers several external and internal walls of the house. On the first floor, near the imposing entrance door is the double height foyer that provides a stunning entrance for design lovers. Then you enter the main living room, the formal dining room and the bar area, spaces designed to comfortably enjoy a night out with friends. The guest bathroom with a large window to a private garden highlights the sophisticated atmosphere along with the green of the plants. All these architectural elements give a lot of character to the style of the house.
