Property Description

This is a modern industrial, custom-designed, 3 bedroom home in a prestigious gated community, situated in the jungle with gorgeous mountain views and unprecedented technological features that bring its owner the ultimate experience in comfort, convenience, security, and joy. Hidden behind a beautifully camouflaged fence and the gate is the Zen garden at the entrance that gives way to the spacious first-floor deck with a pool and common living area. A gracious luxury of space and scale combine with an impressive list of features at this level. While the space is grand, the feeling is one of human scale. You feel instantly at home. The pool is fiberglass, a feature that makes it much more resistant to damage from earthquakes. The floor is a spectacular example of poured concrete, perhaps the best we've ever seen. Charming details on the deck include a green wall to grow fresh herbs and flowers and a home movie-viewing system with a drop-down screen and wiring for a projector with a ceiling mount.
